Classical Repertoire List

Revised January 2024

This list is organized into 5 levels. See the document “Rules and Regulations” available on the Forum website to place your student in the correct level for competition.

Level I: Classical Early Intermediate

Level II: Classical Intermediate

Level III: Classical Late Intermediate

Level IV: Classical Early Advanced

Level V: Classical Advanced

Sources for Repertoire

The editions and their codes that are listed in this document are sources to serve as reference when picking a selection. Any edition is allowed as long as it is complete and not reduced. Common sources are listed with page numbers for each selection. Only the first page number is given. Be sure to check if your selection has more than one page. In addition to the common sources, there are “other sources” listed with the selection. For convenience, an appendix has been added that lists the pieces and their levels in the collections that are common.

Adding New Selections

Members may request to add new selections to the list. To do this, submit the request no later than the October before the next Classical Festival. Submit the full name of the selection including the key, Opus number or any other catalog number that will help identify the piece and the composer. List at least one source and page number. If acceptable, the festival committee will approve it and announce the addition.

Codes and publishers are listed on the next page.
